

*Making Connections
That Move People*

Introduction for Mark Scharenbroich (Last name is pronounced “Sharon-brock”)

In a world where we are constantly interacting and communicating through screens, face-to-face interactions are more important than ever.

Human connection is the heartbeat of the business world. Meaningful connections nurture relationships and build trust.

Keynote speaker, Mark Sharon-brock has spent his career working in both education and business discovering how some of the best organizations and industry leaders build a culture of connections that encourages personal and professional growth.

Mark is the author of an award-winning book on human connection, entitled: “Nice Bike – Making Meaningful Connections on the Road of Life.”

Mark is a native of Minnesota, is an Emmy award-winner and has been inducted into the National Speakers Association prestigious Hall of Fame. Additionally, for five years in a row - Global Gurus - has recognized Mark as one of the top 30 motivational speakers worldwide.

He is a Scorpio, enjoys long walks on the beach and beekeeping.

Please welcome Mark Sharon-brock.