

Introduction for Mark Scharenbroich (Last name is pronounced “Sharon-brock”)

Connections – when a school community is truly connected, a good school transforms into a school of excellence.

Human connection is the heartbeat in both education and the business world. Meaningful connections motivate, build trust, and inspire change.

Keynote speaker, Mark Sharon-brock has spent his career working in both education and business discovering how some of the best organizations and leaders build a culture that encourages personal and professional growth.

Mark is the author of the award-winning book entitled, Nice Bike – Making Meaningful Connections on the Road of Life.

Mark has spoken in more than 3,500 school districts covering every state and every province of Canada.

A native of Minnesota, Mark is an Emmy award-winner and has been inducted into the National Speakers’ Association prestigious Hall of Fame. Additionally, for the past five years, cited as one of the top 30 motivational speakers by Global Gurus.

He is a Scorpio, enjoys long walks on the beach and engaging his grandkids in science experiments resulting in minimal damage to persons or property.

Please welcome Mark Sharon-brock.